

Housing the Unhoused

Tuesday, September 17, 7 – 8:30 p.m.

Location:Eisenhower Chapel

293 Roslyn St. Denver, CO 80230

Housing is in the news ...

Since his inauguration, Mayor Johnston has implemented creative aggressive programs to house and provide services to the unhoused, to aid migrants and to expand affordable Denver housing options. The situation is evolving as Denver takes unprecedented action to resolve multiple challenges.

In April 2022, LUN hosted a panel discussion on the many issues facing the unhoused and the programs serving them in Denver.

Two and a half years later it's time to take another look.

What is working?

What have we learned?

What has it cost?

What can we do to help?

MEET OUR PANEL

From the Mayor's Office:

Cole Chandler, Senior Advisor for the All In Mile Hi Program

Matt Ball, Director of Policy, Roads to Recovery

Sarah Plastino, Director of the Newcomer Program

From the non-profit community contracted to manage housing/services:

Nancy Burke, CEO, St. Francis Center

Michael Karpeles, Director of Special Projects, Salvation Army

Moderator:

Lowry's own Todd Neff who will allow plenty of time for the panel to address audience questions.

Thanks to the Lowry Foundation, LUN appreciates the use of the beautiful historic Eisenhower Chapel for our neighborhood events.
